

ENGLISH WORRY ABOUT CANAL.

Ask for a Postponement of Panama Legislation.

Senate Not a Bit Inclined to Heed the Request.

London Fears a Violation of Her Treaty Rights.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Great Britain's request for a postponement of Panama Canal legislation now before Congress until a formal statement can be filed against the proposed ship toll provisions is likely to have little effect in delaying the passage of the canal bill. Members of the Senate Inter-Oceanic Canals Committee declared today there would be no "backing down" by the Senate from its position in favor of free passage of American ships.

Senator Lodge, ranking member of the Senate Committee on Foreign Affairs, declared any further delay was impossible. He declined, however, to express any final opinion on the right of the United States to grant free passage to its own ships under the existing treaty with Great Britain.

FULL CONSIDERATION. Senator Brandegee, chairman of the Senate Committee on Commerce, said the bill brought before the Senate is unfinished business as soon as the Lorimer case has been disposed of. It is doubtful, however, whether the Senate can reach the bill before the British statement arrives. Many Senators said Great Britain's representatives would be given "full consideration."

That not only Great Britain, but all maritime powers must be expected to protest against any discrimination in favor of American vessels has been fully expected. Notwithstanding this, President Taft and Sen. Stimson have committed themselves to the position of the right of the United States to regulate traffic in the manner provided in the pending bill.

WILSON'S SPEECH. The strongest statement of the administration's position was that made by Sen. Stimson in his Kansas City speech November 14 last, dealing with the Panama Canal as a work about to be completed. He declared that he had not the least doubt of the right of the United States to pay tolls on American vessels using the canal, which would be equivalent to granting them free passage.

He pointed out that substantially every European government using the canal paid such subsidies to the canal company as to make the tolls a mere formality. President Taft has let it be known that he proposed to be guided in the matter entirely by the will of Congress.

EXCHANGE OF NOTES. So, if the legislation is perfected on the present lines, the legislative branch of the government will have to send unqualified support to the State Department in what is almost certain to be a period of extremely active and pregnant exchange of notes with the great maritime powers.

While it is true that Great Britain occupies a position of exceptional interest and power regarding any international canal by reason of her historic undertaking of joint control with the United States, it seems certain any representation the British government may make will be supported by Germany and France and perhaps other European powers. The matter of moment is how far those powers may go to sustain a protest against the proposed canal law.

REQUESTS FOR DELAY. The request for delay came from the summer embassy at Kineo, Me., late yesterday, and was sent by Mitchell Innes, the charge, acting for Ambassador Bryce, who is in New Zealand.

The canal bill now in the Senate Committee with prospect of being soon reported and then to go to conference with the House. Members of Congress feel that the canal legislation is to be had it must be at this session of Congress. The extension of the canal law to the best advantage. It was said today that members of both houses were not agreeable to much delay now.

One of the provisions in the bill as it now stands would make it impossible for Canadian railway ships to pass through the canal if they engaged in coastwise trade.

Then the question of free tolls to certain classes of American ships involves the old question of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty. It is believed that the British government will hold that ships of all nations must be on an equal basis. The opinion among many statesmen is that to grant free tolls to American ships is not a violation of the terms of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty.

Among the special guests were nine on the Panama Canal, by G. C.

was also a member of the party that

Johnson at the beginning described his interesting lecture as "a little

It is the opinion of the commis-

"This city," he said last evening,

Southern Pacific Announces Changes in Officials.

Administrative and Executive Departments Affected.

Numerous Promotions and Appointments Distributed.

(By A. P. Day Wire to the Times.)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—A long list of important administrative and executive appointments was announced today by President William Sproule of the Southern Pacific Company on the eve of his departure for Portland, Or., on an inspection trip. The resignation of C. H. Redington, assistant treasurer of the company, who has been a Southern Pacific man for forty-five years and retires on pension, necessitated the readjustment. The list follows:

W. E. Calvin assumes the title and responsibilities of vice-president in general charge of operation and construction, with headquarters in San Francisco. Formerly he was vice-president and general manager.

SUCCESSOR REDINGTON.

H. A. Jones becomes assistant treasurer, succeeding C. H. Redington, retired. Mr. Jones was formerly freight traffic manager.

C. J. Mills is appointed assistant to the president. Formerly he was vice-president and general manager of the Coast Bay, Redwood and Eastern Railroad, a subsidiary of the Southern Pacific.

A. H. Babcock is appointed consulting electrical engineer. Formerly he was assistant to the vice-president in charge of traffic.

Thomas A. Graham becomes assistant freight traffic manager. He was formerly general freight agent.

A. H. Jones becomes general freight agent, being promoted from his former position of assistant general freight agent.

Other appointments are: W. F. Taylor, to be assistant general freight agent in the central district; J. M. Fulton, to be assistant general freight agent with headquarters at Reno; G. J. Bloch, to be district freight agent with headquarters at Los Angeles; F. S. Medlin, to be district freight agent with headquarters at Los Angeles.

The position of vice-president in charge of traffic, formerly held by G. W. Luce, is abolished.

Never Again.

WHAT CORTELYOU SPENT TO ELECT ROOSEVELT.

(By A. P. Day Wire to the Times.)

WASHINGTON, July 11.—The Republican National Committee in 1904 raised $1,500,000 for Theodore Roosevelt's Presidential campaign, according to George B. Cortelyou, then chairman of that committee, who testified today before the Senate Committee on Finance.

Mr. Cortelyou testified that at the beginning of the campaign he had laid down general rules as to contributions and what not deemed with detailed contributions except in rare cases as the campaign progressed. One of the rules was that there should be no promise or pledge attached to contributions, he said.

Mr. Cortelyou told of contributions raised under that rule.

WANTED A POST.

"A wealthy man came to headquarters," he said, "with an offer to contribute something like $15,000 or $20,000. As he was not connected with any big business we were glad to accept it. However, he wanted, over, he remarked that he hoped he might be considered some time for a diplomatic post in the government."

Mr. Cortelyou testified that at the beginning of the campaign he had laid down general rules as to contributions and what not deemed with detailed contributions except in rare cases as the campaign progressed. One of the rules was that there should be no promise or pledge attached to contributions, he said.

Mr. Cortelyou told of contributions raised under that rule.

LIST OF TRUSTS.

Senator Clapp went through a list of "trusts" and came to the "tobacco trust."

"I remember distinctly that the tobacco trust did not contribute," declared Mr. Cortelyou. "About that time the treasury department made a ruling as to tobacco imports."

"Shortly afterwards some tobacco people came in with a contribution. I issued orders that no contributions were to be received either from tobacco combinations or individuals. I didn't think it proper."

"Who was the party?" asked Senator Lea.

"I do not recall."

The contribution, Mr. Cortelyou thought, was approximately $20,000 or $30,000.

FROM HARRIMAN.

Chairman Clapp asked Mr. Cortelyou about a contribution from the late Edward Harriman. Mr. Cortelyou said he heard a contribution was made, but this was at the close of the campaign "when he was at Chicago. He said he never had inquired about the matter."

Senator Clapp asked about a long list of possible contributions. Mr. Cortelyou could give no information in regard to them.

"Some believe a chairman does to raise money," said Mr. Cortelyou. "It is not. He has other business."

He said he knew of some contributions around $10,000. Several of them, he said, were from women, whom he believed contributed because of long interest in the party, or through sentimental reasons. So far as he knew they were not interested in trade.

AUTHORIZED TO COLLECT.

He estimated between 750 and 800 persons were authorized to collect money. He said that contributions were distributed and many anonymous contributions were

For Age-Marred Skins and Dull, Streaky Hair

Fine linen and that aged condition of the skin are caused by pore-clogging powders and creams. These should be discarded for a spruam lotion, which is made by adding 2 (teaspoonful) glycerine to 1/2 pint which hasel (or hot water), then 4 ounces of spruam. This lotion protects the skin against the ravages of sun and wind, removes tan, freckles, oiliness, and other unsightly, and though invisible when on, lends an indefinable charm to the complexion.

An invigorating and pleasing shampoo for the heated hair can be had by dissolving a teaspoonful canthrox in a cup of hot water. This creates an abundance of rich, cleansing lather, which is a positive benefit to any scalp and hair. After rinsing, the hair dries quickly and evenly, with a brilliance and silky softness truly charming. Canthrox shampoos tend to restore the natural color to faded hair and overcome "stringiness."

It is understood that W. R. Scott will become general manager. He is now assistant general manager.

WANT ORDER SUSPENDED.

Five Large California Railroads Would Let Agents of Eastern Trunk Lines Ride Free of Charge.

(By A. P. Day Wire to the Times.)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—The five large railroads operating in the state have filed with the State Railroad Commission a petition requesting that body to suspend its recent order (No. 11), to the effect that railroads may no longer grant free transportation to representatives of eastern trunk lines, until the Supreme Court has passed upon the question.

The petition was signed by the Southern Pacific, Santa Fe, Western Pacific, Salt Lake, and Northwestern Pacific.

These agents, in developing business for eastern roads, necessarily benefit California lines thereby, and that the commission has unduly and unusually restricted the meaning of the term "common carriers."

Western Federation of Miners Will Endeavor to Change the Practice at the Coming Convention.

(By A. P. Day Wire to the Times.)

DENVER, July 11.—Radical changes in the by-laws of the Western Federation of Miners are contemplated in proposed amendments to be submitted to the annual convention, which opens in Cripple Creek, Colo., July 15.

One proposal is to eliminate the constitution of the clause forbidding local unions from making long-term contracts with employers.

President Charles H. Mayer will recommend the establishment of a home for aged and infirm miners, the expense to be met by a capitol tax, and will endeavor to interest the members in a proposal to invest surplus funds of the organization in established mining properties.

Invest Half a Day With Us Another "Newport" Series of Harbor Trips Saturday and Sunday July 13th and 14th

Come with us to "Wilgury" at the harbor and let us show you what has been done down there and what is being done. Let us take you for a launch ride around the outer and inner harbor—where you will see the many improvements being made by both the U. S. Government and the city of Los Angeles, at San Pedro and Wilmington.

Returning we'll stop at "Wilgury" and we'll take you by automobile over this magnificent tract of future harbor advantages.

The trip to and from the harbor is made in our own private cars and the cost to you is only a half day's time and 25 cents. This pays for the launch ride around the harbor, too, and your lunch—and the automobile ride.

Here is an opportunity to personally investigate the best proposition ever made to you in the history of the growth and development of Los Angeles.

Your Opportunity Lies at "Wilgury"

It is a conceded fact that Los Angeles is destined to become a city of a million or more people—and that her harbor—now under development—is one of the greatest factors in her future.

There will never be as good a time to buy harbor property—as Now—Today—at "Wilgury."

As Los Angeles grows in commercial and industrial importance the lots you buy at "Wilgury" today will be worth many times the price you pay, because the demand for harbor frontage and surrounding acreage will be a hundred times greater than it is today.

Come with us Sunday and let us show you what a wonderful investment opportunity is yours at Wilgury. Call at our office and make your reservations for the excursion.

"EASY MONEY" IS TO BE ABJURED.

CHICAGO WOMAN SOUNDS WARNING TO HER SISTERS.

Plays Market With Thousand Dollars, "Let It Ride" Until She Has Three Hundred Fifty Thousand, Then Drops All—Now Selling Brokers to Recover Earnings.

(By Federal Wireless Line to the Times.)

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 11.—[Special Dispatch.]

"I advise all women not to attempt to become queens of finance. There is nothing in it. I have tried it and I know what it means. Never again. I have had my lesson and it cost me just $1000."

Here is a list of "don'ts" which she has compiled for her sisters who might be speculatively inclined.

"Don't allow any man to introduce you to brokers. I did, and you see the result. Don't think that because you win the first you can keep it up. Every time you win, somebody else loses, and there is bound to be a turning in the lane."

"Don't ask the brokers to take your account. Follow this rule carefully and you'll be happy."

"Don't think there's any happiness in 'easy money.' I had that $1000 parlayed into $350,000 at one time and so much wealth made me miserable."

"Don't give yourself pleasures to save $1000 and eventually give it to a firm of brokers. Spend it when the spending is good."

"Don't spend it all—keep some for a rainy day."

"Don't try to get rich quick. Don't forget I tried the game, and I know what I'm talking about."

World's Wealthiest Actress Renounces the Race and Takes Up a New Form of Passion.

(By Federal Wireless Line to the Times.)

BOSTON, July 11.—[Special Dispatch.]

Art and not horse racing, is now the grand passion of the world's wealthiest actress, Lotta Crabtree, who has sailed on the Franconia for Europe to devote her summer to the study of art in Paris.

Miss Crabtree, who was born in 1847, was on the stage forty years. She is two or three times a millionaire.

A small, girlish, well-rounded figure, a pretty, beautiful, expressive face, a rose and cream complexion, and brownish golden hair—that's the picture of Lotta as she departed from Boston.

"My secret—I think to all success is naturalness and sincerity," she said. Then she went on:

"In the world, she must be her own self and she must realize that she is a queen in her own right."

There is many a woman who has won some success in music, art or financial pursuits who would be an absolute failure as a wife and mother, and vice versa, all of which goes to prove that we must wait for our "call" and whatever it is, respond joyfully."

MOUSE CODE AT FAULT.

"I Love You Forever," Reads, "I Love You Forever." When Delivered and Sent Follows.

(By A. P. Day Wire to the Times.)

NEW YORK, July 11.—An unusual and yet easily explainable error in the transmission of a telegraph message against one of the telegraph companies has resulted in a claim for damage against one of the telegraph companies for alienating a young woman's affections. The message as sent by the young man read:

"I love you forever."

"When it was delivered to the addressee, it read:

"I love you forever."

Under the circumstances there was nothing for her to do but to send back the young man's engagement ring and all his letters and accepted another offer of marriage.

The company's defense is that the mistake was not due to negligence, but that the Morse spelling of "love" and "leave" is so much alike that trouble on the wires caused the error.

The word "love" has two dots for the letter "o" and "leave" has a dot for "e" and a dot and a dash for "a."

Cities and Towns of Los Angeles County

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

Pasadena. ASSESSMENTS CAUSE PROTEST.

Broadway Storm Drain Troubles Many Pasadena.

Resident of Crown City Makes Effort to Suicide.

Friends of Police Judge Circulate Petitions.

(Times of The Times, 11 S. Fair Oaks avenue.)

PASADENA, July 12.—The protest made over the assessments for the Broadway storm drain, which has caused a large number of property owners of the city to protest, owing to the fact that they either forgot or had not heard of the arrangements entered into whereby the entire assessment becomes payable at one time, resulted yesterday in a conference between the Special Council Committee, composed of Councilmen Fogg and Barnes, and C. L. Powell, of Los Angeles, who financed the undertaking.

In view of the objections that have been made by property owners, Powell decided to extend the time for payment of assessments from the 15th inst. to about August 4 or 5. He also agreed to send a representative to Pasadena so that payments may be made here instead of in Los Angeles. His agent will probably establish headquarters at a street supply store, and remain there for about ten days.

The district that was formed for the purpose of constructing this storm drain, which was completed last fall, and the proposed district for the construction of a new storm drain in the northwestern part of the city, comprise about half the territory of the city. The two districts, coming up at the same time, the formation of one and the wind-up of the other, has made the storm drain question the principle topic of discussion to the city during the last few days.

ATTEMPTS SUICIDE.

Word was received in Pasadena yesterday that Frank D. Foster of No. 711 East Orange Grove avenue, one of the proprietors of the Pasadena Rug Works, is probably dying in Bar Harbor, Me., as the result of an attempt at suicide with chloroform. Grief over the recent death of his wife and business worries are believed to have actuated him.

Mrs. Foster died in this city July 1. Two days later the widower started for Bar Harbor, from which place the couple had come to Pasadena, with the body. He visited in Bangor, Me., where he is reported to have made the attempt to take his life.

PETITIONS NOW OUT.

Petitions for the nomination of Police Judge McDonald as a candidate for election to the Superior Court bench next fall will be put in circulation in Pasadena today. Judge McDonald, who has held the office of police judge and justice of the peace here for six years, and who, before that was for five years in the city and county, has many friends in the city and environs and it is expected by his friends that he will have no difficulty in getting for more than enough signatures on the petition to entitle him to a place among the candidates for the vacancies that are to be occupied by the nominees.

PROMISING RESIDENT DIES.

Henry C. French, a retired capitalist, who was well known in Pasadena, and who had lived here for twelve years, died late last Wednesday night at his home, corner of Grove avenue and Arden road, Oak Knoll. He was 68 years of age.

French came to Pasadena from New York State, where he was connected with the Union Transit Steamship Company. He leaves six sons and one daughter. They are Miss Jean French, who is now in Europe; H. C. French, Jr.; T. B. French and A. French of Pasadena; and A. French, W. B. French and J. B. French, who live in the East. The body will be taken to Buffalo, N. Y., for interment.

NEW STREET LIGHTS.

Announcement was made yesterday by Manager C. W. Koller that the municipal lighting department of the city will at once install street lights at the intersections of Washington street with El Molino, Wilson, Mentor, Michigan, Hollister, Stevenson and Hill avenues. The installation of these lights will be made as the result of a request of the Northeast Pasadena Improvement Association.

LEAGUE TO BE FORMED.

A baseball league for the boys of the city will be formed at a meeting to be held at Carmelita playground at 7 o'clock tonight. Two teams have already been organized. The games are to be played in the evening, between 7 and 8:30 o'clock.

AFTER BERRY SELLERS.

City Food Inspector Huddleston announced yesterday that he has recently received many complaints that vegetable men and other selling berries in the city have got into the bad habit of not filling the boxes. He says that he has made preparations at once to arrest all dealers that do not conform to the law.

GREEKS PLEAD GUILTY.

Four Greeks charged July 26, last, for violation of the city liquor ordinance at the Athens Club, No. 714 South Fair Oaks avenue, and who pleaded not guilty to the charges, yesterday changed their plea to guilty. Deputy City Attorney Howard recommended clemency and Police Judge McDonald allowed the men to go on probation. They are G. W. Glavis, president of the club; J. W. Glavis, secretary; Peter Glavis, manager, and Gust Cusack, keeper.

CITY BRIEFS.

EPISCOPAL PROGRAMME.

The importance of a connected idea of the life of Christ, rather than the isolated knowledge held by the average young person was brought out today by Rev. Charles P. Mee, in a discussion following Dean S. R. Col-liday's lecture on "The Life of Christ."

Dean Collday gave the history of the ministry with reference to the geography of Palestine, giving the time and place of the different actions and ministry of the Christ.

This was in preparation for the lecture of tomorrow, in which he will give an interpretation of Christ's sayings.

Rev. E. L. Learned talked of "Child

Study," and said the child is a product of heredity and environment, and as that product, is the winner of opportunities. Rev. Robert L. Winder, whose subject for the week is

"The Christian Year," gave an explanation of the holy days of the church and an explanation of the origin of the practice of observing them.

LONG BEACH, July 11.—Trying to dodge an approaching auto, Walter

King, a music teacher, today stepped his motorcycle directly into the automobile and was thrown to the pavement, suffering a fracture of the skull at the base of the brain which resulted in death two hours later.

According to stories of eye-witnesses,

A. G. Smith, an electrical man and his brother-in-law, William Bodemer, were driving along American avenue and started to turn west into Fourth street, when King, who was riding south, appeared to be started at the auto's turn, and turning first one way and then the other, finally crashing into the machine, despite Smith's frantic endeavors to avert the accident.

The victim was thrown to the pavement, landing under the machine and was unconscious when picked up. He was hurried to a hospital, but never regained consciousness.

King has lived in or near Long Beach for twenty years and was a for-well was notified and gave orders to have the body taken to a local morgue.

HEAVY SEAS.

The initial result of the heavy tides due this month and the first of which last night was accompanied by a heavy sea, was shown this morning on the beach walk, where the big derick of the contractor was toppled over and a big cargo of miscellaneous freight, the bulkhead and in miscellaneous freight,

about ninety feet of green parapet only set during the afternoon. This morning a heavy sea is running and fears are entertained that some of the

"GUN PACKERS" UNDER THE BAN.

ORANGE COUNTY OFFICIALS WILL MAKE HABIT UNPOPULAR.

Shooting of Marshal Kallenberger of Anaheim Has Aroused the Official Anger and One Man Has Already Drawn a Sentence of Ninety Days in Jail.

SANTA ANA, July 11.—All over Orange county war is being made on gun-packers. This comes as a result of the shooting of City Marshal Kallenberger of Anaheim by a Mexican last Tuesday morning. Kallenberger, whose condition has been critical since two bullets were sent through his right lung by a revolver in the hands of Lino Almedarez, was well thought of by officers and other citizens, and that he should fall a victim to the gun-carrying habit has aroused a determination to put a stop to the nefarious custom.

Sheriff Rudbeck has issued orders to his deputies over the county to search Mexicans on every possible occasion, and whenever one is found with a gun or a dangerous knife on him he must be arrested and prosecuted under the county ordinance prohibiting the carrying of concealed weapons. City Marshal Jernigan of Santa Ana is going to follow this same procedure; the prosecutions will be under a city law.

Today Ruperto Saragosa, who was arrested as a suspect in the search for the man who shot Kallenberger, pleaded guilty to a charge of carrying a revolver, and Justice Cox sent him to jail for ninety days.

"Hereafter," said Cox, "every man who pleads guilty to carrying a gun or is convicted of that offense in this court will have to go to jail. I am not going to let any of them off with a fine."

TRIAL STARTED.

The first testimony in the trial of George Ziga, charged with the murder of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Montes, east of Anaheim, on April 12, was taken today. Maps and photographs of the disputed road where the tragedy occurred were presented. The prosecution's principal witness today was Robert Lehmann, aged 12. He saw Ziga fire a shot at Montes who was with the ball through his heart, grappled with Riggs. After Montes fell Ziga beat his head into the ground with a shovel, and as Mrs. Montes rushed up he struck her down. Ziga later to every bit of evidence conclusively. From the time of the crime, in his own mind, he has justified his act.

ANA'S OUTFALL

POWER NEARLY FINISHED.

July 11.—In ten days each, are being lowered to the ocean, where they are kept in place by their own weight. When the last joint of pipe is securely placed, the use for the pipe will be gone.

This pipe line not only solves the sewer problem for the big sugar factory, but it also solves it for the city of Santa Ana. The city is beginning the construction of sewer mains to connect on to the sugar factory outfall at 2 o'clock this morning.

ANA. Santa Ana will be enabled by these mains to sewer every portion of the city.

It is probable that the sewage from Santa Ana will not enter the new outfall within three months, but the sewage from the new factory will be running through the outfall probably by the end of ten days. The factory will not start its campaign of sugar beet slicing until about August 10. During the sugar-making season a large amount of water will flow through the pipe line.

COUNTRY YACHT SUCCESSFUL.

George Junior Republic League at Pomona Gives Show to Fatten the Summer Fund.

POMONA, July 11.—The country fair given at Ganessa Park this afternoon and evening by the young women of the George Junior Republic League of this city, for the benefit of the republic was an artistic and financial success. Crowds attended and the park had the appearance of the typical "fair grounds," with concession tents and booths and different forms of amusement scattered about. There was a moving picture tent operated by republic citizens, the films being kindly loaned by Ferdinand House and Ira Stabler of this city and Miss Hazel Lathrop and Grace Thompson singing illustrated songs; tents for socialist vaudeville shows where the entertainment was furnished by Misses Barbara Sanford, Theresa Cogswell, Laura Quinn, Hope Potter and Messrs. Lewis Johnson, Fred Sileton, Howard Becker and M. Thorburn.

The country store was a rendezvous for the curious and multitudes of "prize" packages were sold, most of the goods having been donated by the generous merchants of Pomona. In the afternoon there was a "bouncing baby" show, the judges of which were E. T. Taylor, Mayor Matthews and Superintendent Paige; as well as a competitive "food exhibit" entered into by the housewives of Pomona. The judges of the cookery being Mrs. William H. Poston, Revs. Albert P. Davis and C. R. Hudson. For the children, there was a magical poppy-bed which contained little premiums, sunk in mother earth and attached to the stems of pretty paper poppy flowers. A burro "scenic" line operated by typical donkey boys furnished the children rides about the park. The Japanese garden where tea and refreshments were served by girls in Japanese costumes, was a popular resort and also the rippling tents of the mystic fortune tellers. Then there was a shooting gallery, boat pond, and scores of attractive society girls in fancy dresses were vending peanuts, popcorn, ice-cream cones, and lemonade to the hungry throngs.

WANT CHEAPER GAS.

The Socialists have determined to call the initiative into action and submit an ordinance fixing the gas rate at $1.05 and an electric rate at six cents. Petitions directing the Mayor and City Council to order a special election were placed in circulation today. This step grows out of the failure of the Council to reach a decision on the gas problem. One week the city fathers voted against the $1.05 rate for gas, and in favor of a $1.15 rate.

At the next session the citizens swarmed the Council chambers, and the Council proceeded to back water, and at the third meeting they had switched back to their former position, but took refuge in arguments of attorneys for the corporation who declared that the $1.05 rate, being based by the experts upon valuation of the old city plant, would be knocked out in court, as the experts should have figured on the new plant at Colton.

INCREASED FORCE.

Local Santa Fe shop officials report that commencing with this month a big increase in the number of mechanics will be made, at least seventy-five additional men being employed. The July payroll will be $55,000, or an increase of $19,000 over the month of June. The working force in the shops will reach 840 men, the largest in the history of the local shops, except last year when the burning of the Barstow round-house made it necessary to employ a large number of locomotives which were damaged by that fire. In addition to the increased number of mechanics being employed, the shops are now on a longer working basis, the basis being nine hours five days out of each week, and five hours Saturday. This means a big bunch of coin to be turned into local trade channels each month.

KISSES BY THE TON.

Mrs. Lulu Deltz, the actress, who is seeking to collect a note for $30,000 from the Fred Ester estate, has occupied the witness stand in Judge Oster's court for two solid days now, listening to the reading of her amorous love letters to the deceased. Mrs. Deltz has been placed on the stand by the defense. She denied having urged Ester to begin divorce proceedings and denied that she ever received money from him. The letters are full of pleadings that he start divorce proceedings at once, urge him not to let anyone influence him, and acknowledge the receipt of various sums. In the first letters read the fair plaintiff sent Ester at the rate of 60,000 kisses a day, and in the letters read later today she sent them in by the ton.

The front of the building will be considerably altered and the entrance completely changed.

Public Service: City Hall, Courts.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Members of the Board of Public Works went before the Chamber of Commerce yesterday and explained details of the work at the harbor. Applications of the Pacific Electric for a reduction of $125,000 in its assessments, and of the Southern California Edison Company for a cancellation of a $10,000 assessment, were filed by the City Board of Equalization yesterday on the ground that the board has no jurisdiction to make the changes desired.

Edward Johnson and F. B. Woodman, newly-appointed members of the Harbor Commission, held their first meeting yesterday. They decided to effect no organization until the third meeting is held.

The Industrial Committee decided yesterday to recommend to the City Council the passage of an ordinance requiring elevator operators and owners of buildings where elevators are operated to make separate reports on each accident.

A German count, who is sued for divorce by his young wife, was on the witness stand in the Superior Court yesterday and told of having squabbled and polished things about the house for his bride.

At the City Hall.

TELLS ABOUT HARBOR WORK.

PUBLIC WORKS BOARD MEETS COMMERCIAL CHAMBER.

Accepts Invitation to Give Details of Plans and Progress for City's Work at San Pedro and Wilmington—All Members of Board Speak on Subject.

Commissioners Hubbard, Chaffee and Humphreys, members of the Board of Public Works, responded to an invitation to appear before the Chamber of Commerce yesterday forenoon to tell of the work planned and that accomplished for the development of the Los Angeles Harbor.

Each member of the commission took part in this presentation, which was more in the nature of a general conversation than of set addresses. They gave a comprehensive statement of the general plans for harbor improvement, including a resume of the Goodrich plans as far as they have been developed, and then went into details on various phases of the improvements now in progress or contemplated. Numerous questions were asked and the subject was such an extensive one that when the conference was ended it was found that the subject had only been gone over in a general way, yet in such a manner as to present to the Chamber of Commerce much information as to the actual status of harbor affairs.

"Potato Kings" Protest.

W. L. A. Zuckerman, produce merchant who has been known locally as the "potato king," because of his successful deals in potatoes during the past few months, before the Board of Equalization yesterday, protesting against a proposed reduction in assessments on potatoes and onions held on the first day of March. The City Assessor stated that he took the published market reports on that date as the basis for his assessments and made his assessments at one-half of these prices. Representatives of the produce exchange, who are furnished by the Produce Exchange, were not present. These quotations are prices that the wholesalers would like to get, but what they really do get is about ten per cent. less than these. This is a member of this firm. This raised a protest from Uncle Jerry Andrews, who declared that the public is not treating the public fairly in giving such reports on the market prices. This is continuing for a reduction of assessment had 1,700,000 pounds of potatoes and 500,000 pounds of onions in storage. An assessment of $41,000 was placed against them. This was finally reduced by vote of the board to $24,420. Through the going to pieces of the potato market in May, a member of the firm stated to the board, the concern had lost fully $35,000 during that month.

No Jurisdiction.

The Pacific Electric Company and the Southern California Edison Company had representatives before the Board of Equalization yesterday seeking relief from what they consider unjust assessments. The Pacific Electric wanted an exemption of $125,000 on materials that it claims are operating property, but which have been assessed as non-operating property. The company's representative made the claim that not one dollar's worth of materials constantly used in shops, etc., had been allowed as operating property by the assessor, while he had conceded that the steam lines have to have on hand this same sort of materials as operating stock. Assistant City Attorney Westover took the position that this board has only the power to equalize values and has not the power to change classifications, and therefore was without jurisdiction in this matter. The Southern California Edison Company asked for a cancellation of the assessment of materials on hand, claiming these, to the extent of $60,000, were operative property. The board voted to file on both demands on the advice of its attorney that it had no jurisdiction and could not properly consider these requests, such power lying in the State Board of Equalization.

Are Studying Harbor.

The Mayor yesterday morning sent to the City Hall his appointment of F. B. Woodman as a member of the Harbor Commission, vice C. E. Richards, resigned, and the Council unanimously voted to approve the appointment. Yesterday afternoon Woodman and Johnson, who was appointed to this commission earlier in the week, met at the harbor commissioners' office and spent some time with Secretary Matson and Special Counsel Hewitt in familiarizing themselves with various phases of harbor matters requiring immediate attention. They decided to effect no organization until the Mayor secures the third member, William Carey Marble, who was tendered the appointment, sent to the Mayor a letter yesterday declining because of the press of his business affairs. The Mayor has a list of about a dozen names from which he believes he will be able to select a man who will serve on this board, and he hopes to be able to select the third name for the commission to the Council at least by the time of its regular session next Tuesday. This afternoon the new members of the commission will go to San Pedro to familiarize themselves with the physical aspect of the work which they are to guide.

Go to Bay City.

Councilmen Betkouski, Topham, Langdon and Morton will leave tonight for San Francisco to make an inspection of certain kinds of fire fighting apparatus which may be adopted here, and to investigate the prospect of securing a head for the Bureau of Fire Alarm and Police Telegraph. A matter of interest in this connection was an application from Arthur W. Nye, professor of electrical engineering at the University of Southern California, proposing that this bureau be placed in his charge, he to give half his time to it, and at his own cost to engage a competent man to give his whole time, also to give the use of the electrical laboratory and equipment of the University of Southern California free of charge. The advantages urged for this proposition are that the city would thus secure the services of an expert electrical engineer and use of expensive equipment, free service of the students in the electrical engineering department and after their completion of a four-year course they being fitted to take positions in this service. The applicant states that the purpose of the application is to work for the co-ordination of the university and the municipality.

Build Ornamental Fence.

Property owners who have protested against the board fence maintained by the Southern Pacific along its right of way on Santa Monica avenue will not get their wish cleared of fencing, but they will obtain the satisfaction of having a handsome ornamental fence in its place. This was decided upon at a meeting of the Streets and Boulevards Committee yesterday. The committee recommended that the city purchase the fence and erect an ornamental fence in its place, and the City Attorney was instructed to prepare the necessary agreement with the company for this improvement.

More Bank Property.

The Streets and Boulevards Committee of the Council yesterday recommended that the council accept the offer of R. D. List and wife to donate a three-acre tract in Chesterfield Square to the city for park purposes. The dedication to the city of this property will be ratified at the regular Council session next Tuesday.

Back to the Council.

The Streets and Boulevards Committee decided yesterday to send back to the City Council without recommendation the proposition on the acceptance of the improvement work on Slauson avenue from Central avenue to the city limits. The committee recommended that the city purchase the fence and erect an ornamental fence in its place, and the City Attorney was instructed to prepare the necessary agreement with the company for this improvement.

Goodrich Is Coming.

The secretary of the Harbor Commission yesterday presented to the two new members a letter from Engineer Goodrich in which he stated: "I expect to be in Los Angeles during a large part of the week of July 15, and to look over the details of such matters as the fishermen's wharf, oil harbor, location of a dry dock, street and rail connections, and other matters in connection with the carrying out of your harbor work."

Honors Are Even.

After a wordy controversy over the change of street names, in which the names of Catalina and Heliotrope drive each had warm adherents, the property owners were more or less pacified by the compromise made by the Streets and Boulevards Committee of the Council in recommending that the street from Temple street north shall be known as Heliotrope drive, and from Temple street south it shall be Catalina street.

Will Speak on "Garbage."

M. W. Baker, editor of the Engineering News of New York City, who is here to attend the meetings of the National Municipal League, will address the City Council next Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock on the subject of "Garbage Disposal."

Most Lay Sidewalks.

The Board of Public Works discussed yesterday the proposition of forcing property owners to lay cement walks in front of their properties where such walks have been laid by private contract by a majority of the property owners of the block, and others have refused to have such work done. It is probable an order requiring such walks will be adopted by the board within a few days.

Change in Echo Park.

D. J. Dase & Son have succeeded H. T. Mallon to the boating and refreshment concessions in Echo Park. The new firm will immediately place new boats and canoes on the lake, which is the largest body of water in the city.

Pagellically Inclined.

Jack Cooney, an I.W.W. worker and street-corner orator, was given a fifteen days' jail sentence yesterday by Police Judge Chambers. He was arrested at First and Los Angeles streets by Patrolman T. E. Miller and charged with intoxication. It was testified that Cooney became abusive and tried to engage a number of pedestrians in a fight.

"I plead guilty and want to get this over as quickly as possible," said the defendant.

MODEL HUSBAND IN REAL LIFE.

COUNT SCRUBS AND POLISHES; WIFE ASKS DIVORCE.

Declares He Was Always Polite and Courteous and Gratified Her Every Wish—Filing of Building Again Brought Up and Causes Riffle-Question Overruled.

It was Count Von Neindorff's day in Judge Reuter's court yesterday in the divorce suit of his wife. The preceding day Mrs. Von Neindorff testified that she had never told her husband an untruth. She appeared in the light of a model wife yesterday. The count had refused to buy her a sewing machine because of her ill health. She insisted she wanted one because she desired to make her own clothing.

The count entered the lists yesterday for a prize for being a model husband. He testified he was always polite, courteous and deferential to his young wife. He said Mrs. Von Neindorff was a German count, he swallowed pride of birth, got down on his knees and scrubbed the floors, polished the grand piano and swept the various rooms.

On many occasions the count prepared breakfast and when his wife was ill in bed, he carried breakfast to her, he asserted. Although his wife testified that she had often felt that he was going to fire the place, Bayse detailed the effect of the destruction of the building on the members of the jury. She testified the count said he was going to fire the place, Bayse detailed the effect of the destruction of the building on the members of the jury.

There was a flare during the day when A. J. Bayse, a hardware merchant of Hollywood, was called as a witness with references to the burning of a building disfigured by the removal of the board structure and erect an ornamental fence in its place, and the City Attorney was instructed to prepare the necessary agreement with the company for this improvement.

The Bribery Trial.

POINTED ONES FOR HAWLEY.

Former Fire Commissioner Upon the Stand.

Tells of Calling Darrow for a Conference.

Point in Wolfe's Testimony May Come Again.

Charles O. Hawley, former Fire Commissioner, and later one of Job Harriman's supporters in the latter's unsuccessful attempt to become Mayor of this city, was on the witness stand in the Darrow trial yesterday to account for the fact that Darrow was near the scene of the alleged bribery of Juror Lockwood when Bert H. Franklin was arrested by representatives of the District Attorney. Hawley said that a situation had apparently arisen whereby the Good Government Organization had or was about to align itself with the liquor interests and that from the Socialist headquarters he telephoned Darrow to come over for a conference.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Ford gave Hawley a grilling cross-examination in which the witness was asked if he had not fomented civil actions against The Times, growing out of the explosion on October 1, 1910. Hawley admitted he was interested in the proposition, and Ford pressed him closely as to his friendly relations with Harriman, Darrow, and other members of the McNamara defense.

The trial proceeded rapidly yesterday, a number of witnesses being disposed of during the day. Chief (Continued on Third Page.)

FRIDAY MORNING.

FULLERTON IS GROWING FIELD.

Large Acreage Leased for Drilling Purposes.

Standard Proves West Side of Leffingwell Ranch.

Doherty Companies Attract Attention.

An indication of the rapid expansion of the oil industry in northern California is seen in a deal just closed whereby 220 acres of land on the Fullerton ranch has been leased to A. Z. Meserve of Anaheim and several Los Angeles men, who paid an advance of $15,000 and who are to drill for oil on the property. The lease holds for twenty years.

Besides this lease, there are several others owned by Meserve and his associates on the same ranch, amounting to $15,000, of which $17,500 is reported paid in.

The first well that was started on the Fullerton ranch was in a depth of 100 feet has been reached and they are making about twenty feet a day. It is believed that oil will be encountered at a depth of 3000 feet.

On the first leased tract, of 130 acres, some work is now being done and a new company will, it is reported from Anaheim, be organized to operate on another 100-acre tract.

The Standard, Union and other companies are reported to have taken leases on the south and west sides of the Fullerton ranch.

The Standard, on the Leffingwell ranch, has reached the oil sands at a depth of 1800 and 1900 feet depth, according to a report from Fullerton. It is claimed that the well is down far enough to give assurance of a good supply of oil. The pressure has increased for the past two weeks, oil showing along with the gas.

Now that the American Petroleum Company has resumed dividends on both common and preferred stock and the Mexican Petroleum Company has preferred stock has jumped above par on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange, interest in oil is entering in the Doherty and Meserve companies. The American Petroleum now has ten strings of tools working in the Coalinga field and new wells are nearly completed. These will largely be in the Mexican Petroleum Company, has been drilling at the rate of 2500 barrels a day for nearly two years. As soon as the wells are completed, which at present shows no signs of oil, the well No. 6 will be opened. No. 6 has been drilled for two years, as there are no facilities for handling the double production.

The pressure in No. 6 at present is 150 pounds a square inch, or about three times as great as the pressure of a locomotive pulling a train.

The Husack, a subsidiary of the Mexican Petroleum Company, has 135 wells in the Coalinga field, and is located fifty miles south of Los Angeles. The company has 1000 barrels capacity, and the total storage capacity of the company is 1,617,112 barrels. The storage space available is 494,428 barrels. During the past year steel storage tanks were built at the rate of two a week.

Uses Electric Power.

The Midway Pacific Oil Company has spudded in No. 2 and is drilling a well in the Coalinga field. The well is being drilled to a depth of 2000 feet. This company is using electric power for pumping purposes at No. 1 well.

Tries to Fix Regal.

A decided effort is being made by the Fullerton Oil Company to fix the Regal well. The well was put down in the Coalinga field and was a good producer. Some time ago the well collapsed at a depth of 1200 feet. The well was abandoned for months. The well was dynamited in order to break the casing and as soon as the obstruction has been removed drilling will be resumed.

Deluged With Water.

For the second time the Adorosa well, No. 2, section 14, 22-23, S. 14, E. 23, has been deluged with water. The water was shut off at a depth of 4050 feet. There was a large quantity of water encountered in the well, and considerable oil showed up through it.

After Shallow Well.

The Pyramid Oil Company has spudded in No. 2, located on section 14, 22-23, S. 14, E. 23, and is drilling a well in the Coalinga field. The well is being drilled to a depth of 2000 feet. This company is using electric power for pumping purposes at No. 1 well.

An indication of the rapid expansion of the oil industry in northern California is seen in a deal just consummated whereby 220 acres of land on the Fullerton ranch has been leased to the Standard Oil Company.

The lease, which was made with the Standard Oil Company, is for a period of ten years, and provides for the drilling of wells on the leased land.

POINTED ONES FOR HAWLEY.

Council Rogers, for the defense, fears he is on the verge of a nervous breakdown, and is turning over much of the examination to his colleagues. He is in constant touch with the trial, however, and whenever any particularly warm argument arises he quickly emerges from the room assigned by the court to the use of the lawyers engaged in the case.

FOWLER ON STAND.

Frank Fowler was put on the stand to contradict the testimony previously offered by A. H. Kruger, a Palms ranchman, who has been fined at least once for selling liquor without a license. The old man declared Fowler had talked about his getting on the McNamara jury. Fowler denied any such conversation. He said he had been to the man's house several times to get a bottle of beer and on the day in question was trying to trace a witness wanted in a civil action.

"Anybody who says I was trying to bribe any prospective juror is an infamous liar," said Fowler, heatedly. On cross-examination Ford asked him what connection he had with the present case. Fowler replied that as a personal friend of Rogers he had helped the latter in looking up some of the jurors. He said he had not spoken with any members of the panel, but had made a written report as to some of the veniremen.

He positively denied asking Kruger to serve in the McNamara case and said he had no connection with the defense.

Leonard Shorber, night watchman in the office of the McNamara attorneys, was the next witness. He testified that Franklin called at the office in the Higgins building about 7 o'clock on the morning of November 28. He declared he was accompanied by another man and asked to be allowed to use one of the offices. The watchman said Franklin appeared excited. The witness tried to give a description of the other man.

Shorber said the two went away together and that he did not see Franklin again that morning. He was confronted with his testimony before the grand jury which showed discrepancies. Before the grand jury he testified the stranger came to the Higgins building with Franklin on November 27 and later concluded it was on the day of Franklin's arrest. Shorber said he was once a labor-union moulder and worked as watchman for the McNamara attorneys for about eight months. He then got a job as watchman at the Labor Temple.

GRILLING HAWLEY.

Charles O. Hawley was given a much longer examination. In reply to questions by Appel he said that upon reading an article in one of the morning papers November 28 he went to Socialist headquarters to talk over with Harriman the possibility of the liquor interests uniting with the Good Government organization. He said that Harriman's suggestion he telephoned to Darrow.

"You were once Fire Commissioner under Mayor Alexander were you not?" asked Ford.

"Yes."

"And you had a disagreement with him?"

"Yes."

"And you also had a fight with The Times?"

"I don't know that I did."

"Well, didn't you go around getting relatives of those killed in the dynamite explosion to bring damage suits?"

"I did that prior to the occasion I was testifying about," said the witness.

"And you maintained for a long time that a gas explosion caused the disaster?"

"Yes."

"In reply to objections on the part of the defense to this line of cross-examination, the witness testified that he wanted to show Hawley was very friendly to Darrow, Harriman and others connected with the McNamara defense and that he had tried to get suits started against the owners of The Times."

He said that the blowing up of the Times building through the "crime of the century" had anything to do with the present case he certainly would not be in the courtroom, and that he did not believe that the cross-examination of the witness should be made so extensive.

Ford retorted that he wanted to show the witness was actuated by malice against The Times and thus came in frequent contact with Darrow. Judge Hutton sustained the objections of the defense to this line of questioning.

WOLFE AND DARROW.

The cross-examination of Frank E. Wolfe was concluded at the morning session. The District Attorney asked him whether on the morning of November 28, when Franklin was arrested, if he held his fare from home or used a commutation book. The matter may be brought up again in rebuttal of Wolfe's testimony that the entry goes a good way in establishing the whereabouts of Darrow on the morning of the alleged jury bribery. Wolfe answers the defendant was on the car with him and that they walked to the office in the Higgins building together. The District Attorney apparently thinks otherwise.

I. H. Russell a stenographer for Job Harriman during the early days of the McNamara trial, was a witness for the defense. He said his employer gave him $500 in gold on the morning of November 28 to take to the First National Bank. He did not know where the money came from nor did he remember seeing John Harrington go to the safe that morning.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Ford showed by the witness that Harrington was detailed to look up the evidence and Franklin to investigate the jurors. Russell told of entering one of the private offices on the date called to recollect and finding Franklin and Harrington in consultation.

MUSICAL COLLEGE PICNIC.

An invitation has been extended to all the teachers and registered pupils of the Los Angeles Musical College to attend the first annual picnic and barbecue at the Sepulveda ranch, Point Pirmin, next Sunday. A special train will leave the Pacific Electric station at 8:10 o'clock. On arrival at Point Pirmin special springtime hayrides will await the party. There will be a barbecue, a real Spanish bullfight under the direction of the famous toreador, Don Pasquale de Chihuahua, boating, bathing, alibiore and surf fishing, also demonstrations of Carlson's Swedish method of putting the shot and discus throwing, as well as exhibitions of Girard's attempt to reach first base, to say nothing of the first performance of Vernon Spencer's cantata for sixty voices, accompanied by the soft pedal and two snare drums.

BANK WITH THEM.

A Los Angeles banker, charged with fraud and bankruptcy, was released on his own recognizance. Grant could not be held by the court to $500,000, the amount of the company's assets, as the government in its attempt to reach first base, to say nothing of the first performance of Vernon Spencer's cantata for sixty voices, accompanied by the soft pedal and two snare drums.

The confession of the Chinese will be furnished the government with some needed information in regard to some of the "higher ups" in this city who are supposed to be connected with the smuggling. There are two whose identities are known. Both have been released by official rumor with former attempts, many of them successful, to violate the alien law.

Dr. C. H. St. Martin, No. 3999 Stephenson avenue, yesterday claimed to be the owner of the Starlight and informed Inspector Nardini of his claim. He was told that as the vessel had been taken engaged in illicit trade that it would be seized and sold by the government.

At the office of the United States District Attorney, it is stated that there are some things in regard to the bill of sale held by St. Martin that will require explanation. Immigration Inspector Conklin, who went North with the Three C's, returned yesterday from San Francisco and left immediately for his home in San Diego, where important developments are expected.

YELLOW CATCH'S
SUDDEN SQUEAL.SMUGGLED CHINAMAN MAKES A FULL CONFESSION.

One of Twelve Caught on San Clemente Island Breaks All Precedents of Race by Feigning on His Part—Both Lloyd and Gerald Heavily Implicated by Story.

A complete confession has been made by one of the Chinese captured by Immigration Inspector Miller and his party on San Clemente Island. It implicates Harry L. Lloyd, captain of the gasoline launch Starlight and William Gerald, the alleged manager of the smuggling scheme.

It has been the invariable rule for Chinese contraband to keep a close mouth when captured, as it is one of the unwhimsical laws of the tong that no incriminating evidence shall be furnished against the men who are trying to take them to the land of freedom. In this case, however, has been told the whole story of the arrival of the Starlight in the harbor of Ensenada; how the Chinese were taken aboard the launch from small boats from the Mexican town; how they were landed on Coronado Island and thence taken to San Clemente.

The confession of the Chinese gives the lie to the story of duress told by Lloyd who professes to be the captain of the Starlight. The informant tells how Lloyd was left alone on the launch in Ensenada Harbor, whence he might have made his escape if he had so desired and how, when the party landed on Coronado Island, all the Chinese being very sick from the trip, Lloyd took them ashore and assisted them in drying their clothes and blankets.

The identity of the Mexican who went south with Gerald and Lloyd on the Starlight has been established and the further fact that before the twenty-two Chinese were landed at San Clemente, the Mexican left Ensenada for San Francisco. The alleged object of the Mexican was to go to the place where the Chinese were to be landed and distributed.

It now develops, through the confession of the Chinese, that it was the understanding that a boat was to go from San Pedro to San Clemente and take the contrabands off the Starlight. But the capture was made so quickly that the Chinese were taken aboard the Three C's, already in the harbor waiting for the Starlight, that there was no chance to make connections for the boat.

The confession of the Chinese will furnish the government with some needed information in regard to some of the "higher ups" in this city who are supposed to be connected with the smuggling. There are two whose identities are known. Both have been released by official rumor with former attempts, many of them successful, to violate the alien law.

Dr. C. H. St. Martin, No. 3999 Stephenson avenue, yesterday claimed to be the owner of the Starlight and informed Inspector Nardini of his claim. He was told that as the vessel had been taken engaged in illicit trade that it would be seized and sold by the government.

At the office of the United States District Attorney, it is stated that there are some things in regard to the bill of sale held by St. Martin that will require explanation. Immigration Inspector Conklin, who went North with the Three C's, returned yesterday from San Francisco and left immediately for his home in San Diego, where important developments are expected.

SEVEN INDICTED; ARRESTED.

More Indians Jailed for Killing of Superintendent Stanley. Investigation Indicating General Plot.

The government men is closing around the Indians who are supposed to be implicated in the slaying of Superintendent William H. Stanley on Coronado Island. The investigation is indicating a general plot.

Yesterday, Deputy Marshal Dustin, Deputy Sheriff Charles Campbell of Riverside county and Frank G. Johnson, of this city, lodged a party of seven Indians in the County Jail. It consisted of Charles Arenas, Patrick Casero, Agapita, Pio, Fabina, Cervante and Cornelio Lugo.

Last Friday a number of secret indictments were returned by the Federal grand jury, and among other presentments were made against these men, charging the murder of Stanley on May 2, Ambrosio Apasat, who shot Stanley, and Francisco Lugo, who wounded Celso Serrano, were arrested Sunday morning and are being held in the County Jail.

The arrest of the men is in harmony with the theory of Assistant United States District Attorney Robinson that the murder of Stanley was the consummation of a bloody plot that has been in the making for some time.

It is known that Stanley had been repeatedly threatened with death by some of the Indians. It is claimed that word was sent around among the enemies of Stanley to be at the council held the day the agent was killed. The understanding being that there was trouble ahead; all of the Indians were told to bring their guns as a final effort was to be made to compel Stanley to make certain concessions to them.

It is said by the officers who made the arrest, that a veritable reign of terror exists among the white farmers living near the reservation, because of the evil reputation of the prisoners.

MOVES HEADQUARTERS.

John G. Graville, acting chief engineer of the Indian irrigation service, has removed his headquarters to Washington, under a departmental order. Hereafter Los Angeles will be a branch office in the organization of the Department of Interior. The local office has been very active since its establishment, the expenditures on account of irrigation projects amounting to more than $2,000,000 annually, a large portion of which passes through the Los Angeles office. The change has been ordered, it is announced, so as to have the irrigation feature concentrated at the national capital.

"GROCER BANKRUPT?"

A creditors' petition was filed in the United States District Court yesterday, praying that W. H. Allen, for several months in the grocery trade on South Spring street, be declared a bankrupt. The petitioning creditors are the Simon Levi Company, Joanne Simon, Josephine Company and the Paper Company, who set out indebtedness of $124.63, $257.11 and $254.41 respectively, but it is understood that there are a number of other creditors. Allen is charged with committing an act of bankruptcy in disposing of his claim. He was told that as the vessel had been taken engaged in illicit trade that it would be seized and sold by the government.

At the office of the United States District Attorney, it is stated that there are some things in regard to the bill of sale held by St. Martin that will require explanation. COUNTY CLERK SAYS DEPUTY WILL STAY ON JOB.

Rumor Current at Courthouse and City Hall that Supervisors Are to Control Position—Next Legislature May Be Asked to Create Office of Registrar Here.

That efforts to displace Thomas McAleer as deputy County Clerk in charge of registration have been made by persons in the Johnson-Lerner organization was known as long ago as the Presidential primary, but they failed. The Board of Supervisors, however, took the producing of the county into its own hands and also the appointment of the election officials, as the law stands now.

The supervision of that work under a selection of its own. This caused some confusion.

"The placing of all the election work under one head, to be known as a registrar of voters, could not be done the way the laws stand now," said Leland yesterday, "but probably the next Legislature will be asked to adopt an amendment to the County Government Act giving us a registrar of voters for Los Angeles. Some complaints were made against the bureau a few months ago, but I investigated them and found that McAleer was in no way responsible for the trouble, which arose over precinct maps and the selection of polling places."

"I have not heard of anyone being named as a candidate for this place. If the Legislature should provide for a new officer to take charge of the work, doubtless there would be half a dozen candidates. San Francisco has a registrar of voters and so has Alameda county, San Francisco, where the women have not begun to register as they have in this county, spends five times as much on its election expenses as we do here. We have a larger population in this county than either San Francisco or Alameda counties have and a heavier registration and larger vote, and it would enable the county to get better results with its work in this department if it had a registrar."

While it may be that some of the members of the California Music Teachers' Association were anticipating a "forte" session of the convention yesterday morning, in connection with the adoption of amendments to the constitution, it proved to be a pianissimo harmony, soft as the cooing of a pair of loving doves.

It is possible that the rare musical programme and the humorous talk of Prof. Pasmore, which preceded the business session, had a mollifying effect upon anybody who hereinafter had a discordant note to inject. John C. Manning of San Francisco first charmed the audience with an impromptu recital on the piano. Manning is a somewhat lean individual, above medium height, with a great reach, and a technique so delicate and unobtrusive that it is a wonder where comes the delightful melody.

He was followed by Miss Peloma Schram, the once little Los Angeles girl, but now world-famous pianist, who consented to give a short programme as a substitute for absence.

Miss Schram is now a handsome young woman of fine physique. She sits at the instrument, her head swaying back and forth in sympathy with her weaving form, every muscle in action. She gave two Liszt numbers, a Schumann, a Chopin "Scherzo." The audience went fairly wild at the conclusion, and not satisfied with her appearance on the stage, she had a response to their insistent applause, continued until she returned a fourth time and rendered a delicate Chopin number.

HUMOR ABOUT SINGERS.
The paper of Henry B. Pasmore of San Francisco, under the title, "A Pian for Higher Technique Among Singers," proved a most entertaining one, bubbling over with humorous hints that were most appealing to the musical audience.

The business meeting followed. One of the items was the election of ninety-nine new members—ninety-four from Los Angeles and five from San Francisco.

The amendment that it was expected would be contested, the floor was that adopting the Australian form of ballot for the election of officers and enabling members to vote by mail. Heretofore the officers have been nominated by a committee and voted on by members in attendance at the meeting. The election will be held in December.

It was determined to publish a magazine as soon as practicable, under the management of the board of directors, and with that in view the dues were increased from $1 to $2 a year, including 10 copies of the magazine. The increase will begin with October, and it is probable the magazine will be started the same month.

Another important step was the decision to establish a State orchestra, to be in full swing in 1913. It was at first proposed to do this on a subsidized basis, but that, too, was unanimously voted to read "on a strict business basis."

SECOND NINTH INNING RALLY.

Vernon Trims Angels With Belated Rush.

Hitt Retires in Eighth After Heaving Fine Game.

Fine Contest Witnessed by Big Crowd of Fans.

BY GREY OLIVER.

Vernon, 2; Los Angeles, 2. If someone could find some way to make the games here only eight innings long the Angels will win easily and knock Hap Hogan's Tigers out of the lead. Just at present no one has put such a rule into operation and for this reason the Tigers clawed a victory away from the Angels yesterday in a ninth-inning finish.

They did exactly the same thing on Wednesday and thus the Tigers have won their two games in the ninth inning.

Hitt pitched a fine six-hit game and yet he retired at the end of the eighth after the locals had made two runs off him. Then it was that the Tigers, with the aid of Halsey got busy and slammed out enough hits to win the game.

Fine little battle, this. Any time the two local teams are fighting each other there is bound to be a scrap.

Hap Hogan and Hughey Smith had a run in once in the latter part of the game over the way Hap was coaching Smith from the third base coaching line and in the sixth what might have been a near riot occurred over interference at second base when Heilmuller of the Angels ran into Brashers and prevented him from making a double play on Metzger at first.

A dozen angry players gathered around poor Ump Towns and he passed the buck by referring the matter to Hildebrand and Hildy got by by declaring Metzger out for Heilmuller's interference.

These little features were unimportant in themselves but they showed the feeling between the two teams.

Nine innings seem to be too much for the Angels. They went along beautifully for eight yesterday and got through with that one with a 2-to-0 score in their favor. However, in the last half of the eighth the Tigers made one run and then in the ninth

WHIFFS FROM THE OLD SPORT BIPE

There seems to be no doubt of Ad Wolgast's intention to postpone the return-fight with Joe Rivers. They may have another fight some day; but it won't be Labor Day.

Whatever his private reasons may be, I think the little Dutchman has decided wisely. His own opinion is that he could easily beat the Mexican another time. This may be true, but the fight for the dim, when a terrible cost. It will take fifteen years from the other end of Ad's life if he fights another hard battle this summer.

There is no use kidding him or ourselves about it. It is a sick boy who got through that Rivers fight on sheer nerve and courage. I thought it was a pitiful performance to see him forcing his little convalescent body to this terrible test. He needs a complete rest—a grasp or two of breath between fights.

Ad's whole life has been going to end with this fight. He has to consider the future when he and his charming little wife are living out here in California as quiet citizens. Wolgast is a remarkable man and when he gets through with the ring, he is likely to become a lighter champion in the business world. I happen to know that he and Mrs. Wolgast have all sorts of interesting plans for the dim when Ad has retired. Certainly, it is his first duty to see to it that he does not wreck his health before that time comes.

Speaking of this business stuff, Ad yesterday invested $25,000 in Venice beach property. With four other capitalists, he bought a tract of land containing fifty-eight acres. It is all subdivided into town lots, with gas and sewers laid and streets cut through; but it is also planted to walnut trees just coming into bearing.

Ad is a strong believer in the future of Los Angeles, which he believes will extend from the mountains to the sea. Wherefore he will hold back this land from the market. Not a lot will be sold for at least two years. In the meantime, the land yields enough income to pay the taxes.

Ad's decision to postpone the Labor Day fight will be rather rough on Rivers. The Mexican boy is growing very fast. It will be hard for him to make the weight five or six months from now.

I understand that he just slipped in under the weight this time. The scales are said to have trembled as he stepped on board when they weighed in before the fight. He could not have been more than a fifth of a difference in weight that the air in his lungs would make. It looks very much as though Joe would join the anguished Jack McFarland class, who are not really either lightweight or welterweights.

Scenes on the Yacht Hawaii.

Taken by Arch Brown, yachting expert of The Times—the only newspaper man who saw the race from start to finish. He was one of the crew of the Hawaii. Commodore Warren of the South Coast Yacht Club, who is shown clinging to the rigging in the picture above, also went on the Hawaii as a volunteer member of the crew.

RIVERS AND WOLGAST NOT TO FIGHT LABOR DAY.

AD WOLGAST and Joe Rivers will probably not fight on Labor Day, after all. Ad admitted as much last night in an interview with a Times reporter. "I read in the papers every morning all the details of the fight I am to have with Joe Rivers on Labor Day," he said, "but I don't know anything about such a fight. I have a number of splendid offers for Labor Day. I don't know which I will accept."

Among the offers that Wolgast is considering are fights with Joe Mandot in either New Orleans or Memphis (offers from both places); with Willie Ritchie in San Francisco, and half a dozen short round sessions in Philadelphia. A number of general propositions for big purses for fights in various places have been sent to Ad, the opponent not being named.

Sooner or later, the champion expects to fight Rivers again; but it can be stated almost to a definite certainty that the fight will not take place on Labor Day.

Going to the Mat.

FIGHT PICTURE OWNERS APPEAL TO THE COURTS.

City Prosecutor Guy Eddie Will Attempt to Stop Newspapers From Printing Photographs of Fights in the Future—Rumor of an Attempt to Reopen Naud Junction Fight Pavilion.

PROPRIETORS of the moving pictures of the Rivers-Wolgast fight have decided to "go to the mat" with City Prosecutor Guy Eddie and carry to the courts, the question of their right to show the pictures.

Following this battle, it is asserted that an attack will be made upon Ordinance No. 21107, which forbids boxing matches within the city limits of Los Angeles; and that an attempt will be made to reopen boxing at Naud Junction.

Uncle Tom McCarry denies that he has any intention either of attacking Ordinance No. 21107 or reopening the old pavilion at Naud's.

There seems to be no doubt, however, as to the intention of the owners of the fight pictures to test the right of Mr. Eddie to stop their exhibition.

In addition to the attack on the two ordinances, it has come to pass that the Board of Censors for moving pictures is not of the same opinion as City Prosecutor Guy Eddie as to the immorality of the fight pictures and a clash is expected between the belligerent City Prosecutor and the Board of Censors.

This is the way the whole affair began. Manager Jacobs of the Olympic Theater secured some very excellent photographs of the Wolgast-Rivers unpleasantness and had lantern slides made of them, planning to exhibit them in his theater. Being of a canny mind, Manager Jacobs invited the Board of Censors of Moving and Other Pictures to the Arrow Theater and gave the board a nice view of the pictures. The board sat throughout the entire list of photographs and differed perhaps a little as to the merits of the decision rendered by the referee in the ring, but were unanimous in this verdict that there was nothing immoral in the pictures.

Then to make assurance doubly sure Manager Jacobs asked the police department: If he could show the pictures, mentioning casually that he had secured the indorsement of the Board of Censors. He secured the permission

LOG OF HAWAII FULL OF INTERESTING DATA.

Arch Brown, "The Times" Yachting Expert Who Sailed on Honolulu Racer in Trans-Pacific Dash, Sends First Account and Pictures of Two Weeks' Experience on Little Racing Craft.

BY ARCH BROWN.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

HONOLULU, July 2.—From the time the Hawaii crossed the starting line at San Pedro until she reached the finish at Diamond Head, Honolulu, there was not a moment that was lacking interest.

Although there were times when calm weather prevented the boat from making headway there was always the feeling that the other boats were having the same hard luck and with this consolation the members of the crew succeeded in driving off that disappointed feeling.

As the log will show, the craft made but one-half the distance during the first four days as compared with the records of the last race. Although the Hawaii was first over the starting line, she was unable to hold her own in the light wind that was blowing. Every inch of canvas that could possibly be crowded on the boat was raised, but nevertheless the Larline and Seafarer passed her during the first mile.

The race was lost by the Hawaii during the calms off San Clemente Island. By working every light sail possible she reached the trade winds on the afternoon of the fourth day. The square sails were immediately hoisted and Capt. Stroud and the crew held a ceremony of locking the sails on and throwing the key overboard. First Officer Center acted as ship's carpenter and carved a large wooden key. After attaching the name of the yacht and crew in a glass bottle the key was thrown overboard.

IN THE TRADE WINDS. After the trades were reached there was practically no changing of sails until the finish line was crossed. Running before a large sea, most of the time, the boat began to show what she was made of and if it had not been for the calm weather at the start a new record would easily have been made.

There was no time during the race when the crew found time to loaf about the decks. After standing watch four hours at a stretch each, man was willing to hunt his bunk and get as much sleep as possible. There were always five or six men on deck all of the time. This included three men and a mate and usually the captain. Owing to the absence of Seaman James Blaisdell, who was too ill to make the return trip, the writer endeavored to substitute for him, but after five nights of standing watch the captain informed him that he was on board the yacht as a guest and he was not compelled to scale the main mast during stormy nights.

However, every man aboard did his share of the work and taking it all in all the crew seemed like one big family, and by working in unison the boat made one of the best showings ever recorded.

There could not have been a better skipper to pilot the boat than Capt. Stroud. From the start until the boat passed Diamond Head he was on the job taking observations and supervising the sailing of the boat.

NIGHT after night he would remain on deck, taking occasional bits of sleep in the cockpit, simply because his heart was wrapped up in his boat and he would fight for victory until the end.

GRITTY OFFICERS. Great credit must be given First Officer Center and Second Officer Fredericks for their untiring efforts in directing the crews of their watches. During the entire trip the crew and officers worked together and not a word of discontent was heard. There was not a man aboard who found it necessary to "heave too" during calm or stiff weather and every man was on the job when it came time for his watch.

During the fourteen days of hard sailing there was one man aboard who succeeded in keeping the crew in good spirits via the stomach route. This was the steward, Joe Laves. Commodore Warren Wood of the South Coast Yacht Club, who was also a guest aboard the Hawaii, will very readily back up this remark as he succeeded in putting on fifteen pounds of weight in fifteen days.

It seemed as if all of the hardships of the race were bunched together during the last few days before the finish. The first disagreeable surprise came on June 28 when it was found that there was a leak in the water tank and but fifty gallons of fresh water remained. This was transferred to another tank and was used for drinking purposes only. The steward showed the fine points of his art by making bread and boiling potatoes in salt water. By this method of economy the fifty gallons lasted until the finish.

A BAD NIGHT. The worst night of the trip was the last night of the race. After entering the channel off the island of Maui the boat encountered a fierce wind which carried away her main gaff and top-sail. This necessitated reeving the mainmast as a leg of mutton and in this crippled condition she crossed the line well within the time for second place. Seen thirty and forty feet high were pounding on the deck, but with her square sails still hanging on she took the wind in her teeth and simply flew. There were times during this fight when the log showed a speed of sixteen knots an hour.

Every man aboard declared the trip to have been one of the best ever and the fifteen days passed altogether too rapid. When the Hawaii had crossed the finish line the tug Intrepid came out and towed the boat to the dock. Hundreds of people lined the dock and a hearty welcome was given each member of the crew.

HANDSOME RECEPTION. The people of Honolulu had made lavish preparations for the entertainment of the visiting yachtsmen. Judge Henry E. Cooper, president of the Hawaii Yacht Club, will give a big luncheon (feed) at his beautiful residence. Dances and other dinner parties will also be among the enjoyable entertainment. A race to Hilo, on the island of Hawaii, will be sailed as soon

Arizona prospectors are flocking into the city to avoid the summer heat. Many of them arrived yesterday to be present for the Haanayampa Club conference, to be held at the Hollen-their next annual fair than in an election. He does not think that the third party will amount to much in Arizona.

Trailing with the Arizonans are Col. W. S. Lowe, once keeper of the old Montezuma Hotel at Tucson, and Lew Collins, once assistant secretary of Arizona, both now of Los Angeles.

Another camp follower is Ed Eaton, formerly of Arizona, who has spent the last two years cyaniding the tailings of the old Lum Gray mine, close to the Palo Verde country.
